

The Area at Cook Forest State Park

A river runs through it... The Clarion River, designated as a national Wild and Scenic Waterway, winds serenely through Cook Forest State Park offering the outdoor enthusiast plenty of opportunity for fishing, canoeing, kayaking, tubing or swimming.

The park is located on over 8,000 acres in the midst of a premier display of a white pine forest and is home to Pennsylvania's only 180-foot plus white pine known as the Longfellow pine. This ancient forest highlights over 30 miles of hiking trails.

In Autumn, the forest turns to brilliant shades of yellow, red and orange while Spring finds the trees alive with the colors and smells of Mountain Laurel and Rhododendron.

Recreational activities available throughout the park include all of the river/water activities mentioned above plus hiking, bicycling, geocaching, bumper boats, waterslides, go-karts, mini-golf, horse-back riding, hunting, fishing, bird watching, cross country skiing, snowmobiling and sledding.

Make your reservations now and discover why Cook Forest is Pennsylvania's very own heaven on earth!

What do you need to bring?

Cook Forest Top Hill Cabins are completely furnished with fully equipped kitchens. The beds have linens with blankets and pillows supplied. You will need towels for your showers as these are not supplied. You will also want to bring paper products and garbage bags. You may also consider hot dog sticks, pie irons, electric fan, radio, battery operated flash light and fire starter. At the cabin, you will find an initial supply, 3' x 3', of firewood. If you need additional firewood, you may purchase more on the premises. We have recently become pet friendly with "rules." Please ask permission for your pet when you make reservations. We will be happy to discuss our "pet rules." Please keep in mind that we do not permit tenting or motorhome camping. Don't forget your camera -- you may even see one of Cook Forest's black bears!
